BIG LEAGUE BALL IN HICKMAN.

In one of the best games of the season in Hickman in many a day, the local team beat Hornbeak Sunday by a score of six to five. It took eleven innings to decide and every inning was full of snap and pepper from bat to finish. While the local team made eight errors, only one of which hurt their chances, they made up by hitting and running what they lost by mishaps. The game was a pitcher's battle between Parrish and Hadden and both showed good control. Parrish allowed five runs and one pass in nine innings. Hadden only passed one man but was hit hard. Sexton led the locals in batting with four hits out of six times at bat, one of which was a three base hit. Parrish and Leibovitz both secured three hits. Osburn made a great running catch in center in the ninth which saved the game, and Baker made a wonderful stop of a high throw and tagged runner at second which was one of the features of the game. To sum it up in a few words it was a wonderful game considering the fact that neither team has had much practice this year. The locals have a well balanced team which can hit the ball and all fans should assist them in every way possible, for in that way only can we expect to have ball here this year.

PLANT SOY BEANS. A VALUABLE CROP.

Soy beans are a legume, and therefore put the same properties in the soil as clover and cow peas, thus building up the land in the same way as do all other legumes.

Soy beans have not been generally known in this country but a few years, and like everything that is new there have been many mistakes made in their uses and in the selection of the proper varieties.

There are several hundred varieties of these beans, but only a few of these have been grown extensively enough for the seed to be on the general market. However, you can secure from most any good dealer the varieties best adapted to our conditions.

The varieties are Mammoth Yellow, large yellow beans, taking from 80 to 200 days to mature, and does not mature in this climate, but may be planted in the corn, and will furnish a large amount of hay feed after the corn is planted.

The Sen is also a yellow bean and matures in 100 or 115 days. This bean is more adapted to planting with the corn as it will mature with the corn.

Blany or Black Beauty is a 90 day bean and will mature if planted in the corn at the last cultivation.

Harberlandt is another 100-day bean found on the general market.

Soy beans are richer than peas in food value and furnish almost three times the amount of feed that peas do under the same conditions.

Soy beans weigh 50 pounds to the bushel and one bushel will drill three acres in rows twenty inches apart, or about eight or nine acres with the corn. The beans yield from ten to thirty bushels to the acre, and there is a good sale for mature seed of good varieties.

The Republican convention at Chicago is on today.

A CITY'S PROGRESS—OR IT'S LACK OF IT.

Casually discussing local conditions with local merchants one day last week, the gentleman confided to us that Hickman is not forging ahead with her old time vigor; business is not what it once was, etc.

If not, why not? What's the trouble, Mr. Business man? Its certainly not the town's fault; no, sir—ee. On the contrary, the citizens — the business men — of a town make or mar its prosperity. A town is not like Topsey, "Jist growed." Its people must take its advantages, push its good points, and set forth its location and adaptiveness for whatever purpose it is best suited.

Weeds spring up unsworn and flourish unattended, but a field of corn must be cultivated. So it is with villages, towns and cities. Some one must work to pull the community out of the slough of lifelessness.

The live town is alive because its citizens are alive. The more pep they put into the job, the better for the place. Three or four good workers can raise a town from the dead. In the last fifteen years cross-roads settlements have become flourishing villages, moribund villages have grown into the city class. Regardless of natural advantages, somebody hustled to bring about the growth in each place.

And did these hustlers have the cheerful assistance of their neighbors? Nay, nay, Nehemiah! The neighbors stood around and kicked and knocked. There was never a leader from the time of did not have to queer the scoffs Noah down to the present, who and scorns and taunts of the ingrates he were trying to help. The town hustlers who are up and doing get no encouragement from the members of the knock-cabinet. That is why some stand still.

Just are YOU doing to help man?

The city dads thus far, we are told, have failed to make the borrow contemplated for the purpose of taking up their outstanding warrants. Something like $8,000 is needed to clean up the local indebtedness. Outstanding warrants may continue "outstanding" until taxes are collected this fall.

The House has voted an appropriation for the building of 50 submarines.

"NOVELTY" is the keynote of interest to the smartly gowned woman, whose footwear harmonizes with the rest of the costume. And novelty is featured here as never before for the Summer season of 1916. The lasts are distinctive.

NONE of the little refinements that give charm and smartness to the new pumps are lacking in this summery display. The slender, well arched look they yield to the foot is in keeping with the vogue of the short skirt. It is a "quality" showing of the highest class.

Casually discussing local conditions with local merchants one day last week, the gentleman confided to us that Hickman is not forging ahead with her old time vigor; business is not what it once was, etc.

If not, why not? What's the trouble, Mr. Businessman? Its certainly not the town's fault; no, sir-ee. On the contrary, the citizens—the business men—of a town make or mar its prosperity. A town is not like Topsey, "jist growed." Its people must take its advantages, push its good points, and set forth its location and adaptiveness for whatever purpose it is best suited.

Weeds spring up unmown and flourish unattended, but a field of corn must be cultivated. So it is with villages, towns and cities. Some one must work to pull the community out of the slough of lifelessness.

The live town is alive because its citizens are alive. The more pep they put into the job, the better for the place. Three or four good workers can raise a town from the dead. In the last fifteen years cross-roads settlements have become flourishing villages, moribund villages have grown into the city class. Regardless of natural advantages, somebody hustled to bring about the growth in each place.

And did these hustlers have the cheerful assistance of their neighbors? Nay, nay, Nehemiah! The neighbors stood around and kicked and knocked. There was never a leader from the time of did not have to queer the scoffs Noah down to the present, who and scorns and taunts of the ingrates he were trying to help. The town hustlers who are up and doing get no encouragement from the members of the knock-cabinet. That is why some stand still.

What are YOU doing to help man? The city dads thus far, we are told, have failed to make the borrow contemplated for the purpose of taking up their outstanding warrants. Something like $8,000 is needed to clean up the local indebtedness. Outstanding warrants may continue "outstanding" until taxes are collected this fall.

The House has voted an appropriation for the building of 50 submarines.

BIG LEAGUE BALL IN HICKMAN.

In one of the best games of ball seen in Hickman in many a day the local team beat Hornbeak Sunday by a score of six to five. It took eleven innings to decide and every inning was full of snap and pepper from start to finish. While the local team made eight errors, only one of which hurt their chances, they made up by hitting and base running what they lost by mishaps. The game was a pitchers' battle between Parrish and Hedlin and both showed good control. Parrish allowed five hits and one pass in nine innings. Hedlin only passed one man but was hit hard. Sexton led the locals in batting with four hits out of six times at bat, one of which was a three base hit, while Parrish and Leibovitz both secured three hits. Osburn made a great running catch in center in the ninth which saved the game, and Baker made a wonderful stop of a high throw and tagged a runner at second which was one of the features of the game. To sum it up in a few words it was a wonderful game considering the fact that neither team has had much practice this year. The locals have a well balanced team which can hit the ball and all fans should assist them in every way possible, for in that way only can we expect to have ball here this year.

PLANT SOY BEANS. A VALUABLE CROP.

Soy beans are a legume, and therefore put the same properties in the soil as clover and cow peas, thus building up the land in the same way as do all other legumes.

Soy beans have not been generally known in this country but a few years, and like everything that is new there have been many mistakes made in their uses and in the selection of the proper varieties.

There are several hundred varieties of these beans, but only a few of these have been grown extensively enough for the seed to be on the general market. However, you can secure from most any good dealer the varieties best adapted to our conditions.

The varieties are Mammoth Yellow, large yellow beans, taking from 80 to 200 days to mature, and does not mature in this climate, but may be planted in the corn, and will furnish a large amount of hay feed after the corn is planted.

The Son is also a yellow bean and matures in 100 or 115 days. This bean is more adapted to planting with the corn as it will mature with the corn.

Blony or Black Beauty is a 90 day bean and will mature if planted in the corn at the last cultivation.

Harberlandt is another 100-day bean found on the general market.

Soy beans are richer than peas in food value and furnish almost three times the amount of feed that peas do under the same conditions.

Soy beans weigh 50 pounds to the bushel and one bushel will drill three acres in rows twenty inches apart, or about eight or nine acres with the corn. The beans yield from ten to thirty bushels to the acre, and there is a good sale for mature seed of good varieties.

"NOVELTY" is the keynote of interest to the smartly gowned woman, whose footwear harmonizes with the rest of the costume. And novelty is featured here as never before for the Summer season of 1916. The lasts are distinctive.

NONE of the little refinements that give charm and smartness to the new pumps are lacking in this summery display. The slender, well arched look they yield to the foot is in keeping with the vogue of the short skirt. It is a "quality" showing of the highest class.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The world is so full of a number of things,
I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

—Stevenson.

FOR THE FAMILY TABLE.

Desserts that are simple to make, economical and wholesome are always in demand.

Brown Sugar Pudding.—Mix four tablespoonsful of cornstarch with two cupsful of brown sugar and when well mixed add two cupsful of boiling water and a pinch of salt. Boil until the cornstarch is well cooked and simmer in a double boiler. Just before taking from the fire add a half cupful of walnut meats, broken in pieces. Serve cold with whipped cream.

Potato Chowder.—Cut a slice of salt pork in dice and fry brown in a soup kettle. Then add three medium sized potatoes and one onion, put through the meat chopper. Add salt and pepper and dredge with flour, cover with boiling water and simmer until tender. Add a pint and a half of hot milk, a small piece of butter and serve with toasted crackers.

Parisian Salmon.—Take a thick slice of salmon, tie it in a cloth and simmer gently in soup stock to which has been added a bay leaf, two chopped onions, a stalk of celery, one diced carrot, and some parsley. Place the fish when cooked on a platter and pour over it the following sauce: Place in a double boiler a cupful of milk, adding half a teaspoonful of beef extract, salt, celery salt and a tablespoonful of cornstarch, mixed with a little cold water. Cook well to cook the starch, then stir in a cupful of asparagus tips. Serve a border of mashed potato and small green around the fish with the sauce poured over the fish.

Oatmeal Soup.—Slice a large onion into one teaspoonful of melted butter and let simmer. Add one cupful of cooked oatmeal and cook until the onions are tender. Add a scant pint of milk and salt and pepper to taste. Strain, bring to a boil and serve hot with toasted crackers.

When making celery soup, stew the leaves rather than the heavy coarse stalks, as there is more flavor in them.

Any left-over meats are made appetizing by reheating in any well seasoned sauce.

DAN MURCHISON DEAD.

"Ugile" Dan Murchison, age 72, died at his home six miles north of Fulton at about 12 o'clock last night. Pneumonia caused his death, after an illness of two weeks. He is survived by his wife, four sons and three daughters. He is also an uncle of Jailer Chas. Murchison, of this city. Burial tomorrow.

Charlie Fethe spent Sunday in Union City.

Ben Walker was in Fulton Friday.

THE "YELLOW SHEET."

The Courier is not yet a "yellow sheet" this week of its own choosing; we are merely forced to take what we can get in the paper line—at an advance of 100 per cent since Feb. 1—and the yellowish, shoddy paper on which we print this issue will likely be a fair sample of the paper we'll use until the war closes. Indeed, there is a possibility that we shall not be able to procure this or any other grade indefinitely. Unless conditions change soon, the Courier and all other weeklies will be forced to raise the subscription rate from $1.00 to $1.50; even then, there will be less profit in a subscription than realized on the dollar-a-year basis two years ago. Everything else has advanced in price and it looks like the newspapers are going to be forced to follow suit, unless the editor owns a bank on Wall Street.

A CHILD.

A CHILD'S plaything for an hour.
Its pretty tricks we try
For that or for a longer space,
Then the and lay it by.

BUT I knew one that to itself
All seasons could control,
That would have mucked the sense
Of pain.

Out of a griefed soul
TWO! stranger into loving arms,
Young clamber up of knees,
When I loved thy thousand ways
Then life and all shall cease.
Mary Lamb.

BOARD ELECTS HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER.

At a meeting of the Board of Education last week, Miss Margaret Cartwright, of Princeton, Ky., was elected to teach in the High School of Hickman College.

Miss Cartwright comes highly recommended as a teacher. For the past few years she has taught in the High School of Giddings, Texas.

The position to which she was elected was filled last year by Miss Vine, who did not apply for re-election.

RIVER FORECAST.

During the next few days: A slight fall will continue in the Tennessee; the Mississippi, above Cairo, will change but little during the next two days, a rise, amounting in all to two feet or more over present stages, setting in Friday.

O. A. Tillman, of Caruthersville, Mo., is the guest of his brother, A. O. Tillman, the Lee Line agent.

Mrs. Mitchell Wright left Sunday for Murray.

126 PEOPLE PERISHED IN MONDAY'S STORM.

One hundred and twenty-six deaths have been reported from the storm-swept section of Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois. Accurate estimates of property damaged were not available, but figures ventured by property owners ran into the hundreds of thousands.

Incomplete tabulations showed the following deaths:

Arkansas 76.
Missouri 30, probably more.
Mississippi 16.
Illinois one.

Tennessee 4, with a score or more missing in the overturning of the Mississippi River Packet Eleanore.

The casualties in Arkansas were from every section. Scarcely a county escaped the path of twisters, which traversed the entire state. Jackson and Vicksburg suffered from the storm in Mississippi. Many of the casualties in Arkansas and Mississippi were negroes. In Missouri the Popular Bluff section was well nigh devastated.

Thirty or more lives were lost when the Lee Line Steamer Eleanore was overturned during a tornado Monday night south of Pleasant View, Tenn., 20 miles above Memphis. All but two of the victims were negroes. Not ten o'clock a storm described by survivors as an "electrical tornado," swept up the river from the south. The Eleanore was tossed about like a cork and pulled heavily against her moorings. Suddenly a gale caught her amidships and hurled her over on her side. Immediately all was confusion. Survivors even now cannot tell just what happened. Cabin passengers scrambled frantically for windows and doors. Many, scantily clad, were thrown into the river and swam to the nearby shore. The survivors made their way to a nearby house, where shelter was provided for all. The storm raged for several hours and little could be done toward helping the injured or recovering the bodies of the dead.

THE DRAINAGE SURVEY.

If all plans are successfully consummated in regard to the city levee—and it is to be hoped they are, as a levee will be built this year or not at all—the city fathers will have in engineer here in the next ten days for the purpose of making the plans for a drainage system. This system must be adequate for handling both the rain and sewage water, and is no small undertaking.

SPAN'S BABY DIES.

The little 16 months old daughter of E. P. Span and wife, residents of the Henry Addition, died last night of flux.

Burial this afternoon at the city cemetery.

The C. L. and S. Club met with Miss Marguerite Fugate Monday night. An interesting paper on "Paganini and the Violin" was read by Mrs. A. K. Kesson followed by "The Beginning of the Violin," by Miss Hapley. Miss Fugate also read a short article on the life of Paganini. An interesting musical contest was enjoyed, after which cream and lemon wafers were served.

Buff Hawkins was here yesterday from Paducah for the purpose of making a bid on the engineering work in connection with the city levee and drainage system. This work, we understand, had been previously promised to a Nashville engineer.

Mrs. Wright Phelps and children, of Union City, are visiting Mrs. C. H. Moore and family.

MAY RAISE COAL RATE.

We understand the Interstate Com. Commission is again figuring on raising the coal rate for the N. C. & St. L. Ry. from West Kentucky points into Hickman—contemplating an advance from $1.25 to $1.50. They gave us a 5c raise last year. It seems the commission fails to recognize river competition here, and we may be forced to install facilities for handling river coal again before we become immune from further advances. But, in either case, it would cost our citizens hundreds of dollars, and an attempt should be made to convince the commissioners of the injustice of such a step.

According to press reports, Herbert Carr, a prominent attorney of Fulton, was appointed yesterday by Gov. Stanley as member of the Board of Prisoner Commissioners. This is a good position—carrying a fair salary and little work.

The jangling still continues at the hour of going to press.

The Sylvan Shade school district has been very liberal and enthusiastic in the support of the school. More than $2,000 has been subscribed. This is by far the largest amount ever subscribed at one time by any of our districts and indicates a very progressive spirit among the people of that community. They are planning to employ a high school teacher in addition to the two grade teachers, to extend the term, and with the aid of the county to enlarge the school grounds and build a modern school house with three or four rooms.

The next examination for teachers' certificates will be held June 16th and 17th. This will be an examination for county, eight year state and high school certificates. The examination for high school certificates will include the following subjects: rhetoric and composition, algebra, American literature, English literature, geometry, English classics, history and civics, pedagogy and psychology, with subjects are required of all applicants and also the additional subjects applicant expects to teach.

GERMAN U BOATS TO BREAK BLOCKADE.

The establishment of a transatlantic service between New York and Germany, to be carried on by giant submarines, is a possibility of the near future. This was the announcement of a prominent New York shipping man, who had just returned from Hamburg. For obvious reasons his name can not be used.

These great submarines "U-boats" are the latest undersea boats that have left Germany. They have been diverted from the purpose of war and will be used in commercial vessels only, according to the information obtained. Germany's object in this is to break the British blockade and also to establish a regular mail service between the two countries.

When the submarines enter the Atlantic with mails, the German government has decided to try to break the blockade by transporting letters to America and also small quantities of food and chemicals, which it is now impossible to obtain from the British blockade. The German government has decided to try to break the blockade by transporting letters to America and also small quantities of food and chemicals, which it is now impossible to obtain from the British blockade.

These submarines, it is said, will be used to break the blockade by transporting letters to America and also small quantities of food and chemicals, which it is now impossible to obtain from the British blockade. It is the initial voyage are successful it is probable that a small number of passengers will be carried. Assured that the passage would not be interrupted while by the British, there are many persons who would pay a large amount for transportation across the Atlantic at this time. As many as ten passengers could be carried by the big submarines.

Capable of carrying enough oil to propel them 6000 miles, the new transatlantic submarines would be able to make a round trip, it was said, without taking fuel here. If they were regarded as merchantmen, however, it is believed there would be no objection to their taking fuel and supplies at an American port at any time.

If a speed of fourteen knots were maintained the German engineers figure that the voyage from Bremerhaven to New York would be made in just under ten days. They do not expect how ever, to accomplish the first voyage in less than twelve days.

A description of the new "undersea boats" will give an idea of their capabilities. With a length of 450 feet the vessels will have a beam of 40 feet, and there will be a "superimposed deck" which will give additional space for living quarters and in which there will be staterooms with ports. Above will be the conning tower, the bridge of which will be thirty feet above the normal water line. There will be a crew of fifty to sixty men.

"We cannot overstate its value to Germany," this idea can be put through," said a German shipping man recently. "It will not only effect very much the British blockade, but make the delivery of German mails not only possible, but regular. Also, there would be the moral effect of knowing that Germany had armed ships for defense only and would not attempt to destroy enemy merchantmen unnecessarily with these transatlantic submarines."

It is strange that the merchants of a town, and business men generally, don't take more interest in trying to land a manufacturing plant of some kind that would employ 100 or more skilled workmen. WAGON FACTORY WILL BE MOVED TO MISSISSIPPI.

The Hickman Wagon Factory, owned by S. L. Dodds, is to be moved to Clarksdale, Miss., and the moving of this plant will probably begin some time next week.

This concern is the oldest industry in the city, having been established in 1859, and in continuous operation since that time. No other one concern has done more to put Hickman "on the map." Its product has gone into every central and southern State, bringing in thousands of dollars of outside capital each year. We regret, indeed, that Hickman is to lose this old established factory. It contributed its part to the commercial prosperity of the town and will be a distinct loss to the community.

A Card to the Trade

Conditions of the markets have reached a pass that have forced upon us a decision whether to allow deterioration in the quality or to alter some of our prices. As our goods and brands have uniformly enjoyed the confidence of the buying public, we have determined that it is to the best interest of our friends and customers to uphold the standard of our line, and we confidently look for the co-operation and endorsement of this course by the trade.

At the present time the tendency is towards higher levels of prices in the near future. The higher cost of all raw materials will, of necessity, further advance prices soon.
